About the Seminar

Quality assurance in education is today the top priority of the policy agenda. Post- secondary education needs to prepare graduates with new skills, a broad knowledge base and a wide range of competencies to enter a more complex and interdependent world. Quality is a multi-dimensional concept and several mechanisms for quality assurance and management at individual and institutional level are needed. Systems of accountability and accreditation with a robust regulatory mechanism are essential to the process of sustaining and improving quality. With increasing unemployment among the educated, the need for giving due attention to employable skills in secondary and higher education is being felt increasingly. As skilled workforce is considered the most important human capital required for the development of a country, both vocational education and skill development are known to increase productivity of individuals, profitability of employers and national growth. Conventional education alone cannot meet the needs and aspiration of higher education. Distance education system through Open Online Courses have recently received a great deal of public attention and it is recognized & accepted as an important mode for achieving enhanced access, developing skills, capacity building, training, employability, life-long education and continuing education. This has

About Kazi Nazrul University

The Kazi Nazrul University was established under West Bengal Act XIX of 2012. Assent of the Governor was first published in the Kolkata gazette, extraordinary 16th August 2012. The university has been named as a mark of respect to the rebel poet Kazi Nazrul of India who is also the national poet of Bangladesh (died in Dacca, August 29, 1976). encouraged various higher education institutes/universities to put their courses online by setting up open learning platforms. Today technology is all pervasive and it influences all domains of our daily life. The developments in information and communication technology have changed the way educational services are offered. Technology enables to take education and learning go far beyond the confines of institutionalized instructions, structured study programmes and teacher-cantered teaching learning process. ICT helps take learning beyond schools and universities. E –learning is one of the most sought after modes of delivery of educational services. So the present Seminar aims to act as a platform to work upon these evolving trends in education, devise techniques to overcome challenges and explore new horizons to fulfill national and global aspirations.
